To Whom It May Concern:

I am writing to express my full support for Kadambavan das (Solianyk Kostiantyn). He is a responsible devotee in good standing in the Krsna consciousness movement in Ukraine. He is a successful businessman who has already demonstrated competence in financial dealings. He lives down the street from the ISKCON Kyiv temple. For many years he has demonstrated dedication to the interests of his local temple, the deities, and the very large devotee community in Kyiv. He also personally assists Acyuta Priya dasa, the Ukraine Zonal Supervisor, with many of his regional responsibilities.

I know Kadambavan dasa well. I am confident that between he and those who will assist him, they will work together to provide aid to devotees throughout Ukraine. Currently so many of them require assistance during these most difficult times.

Kadambavan dasa already has the system working. I just now spoke with him and he assured me that for almost a week now, funds have been coming in and are regularly being disbursed. He will start keeping a daily spreadsheet of income and disbursements which he will make available to me and others who require access to this information, for reference whenever required.

I hope this arrangement will suit your purposes. Currently I am over my head to not only help provide aid and assistance to devotees in need, but to be available to those who look to me for the kind of support which goes beyond physical needs. To be effective, I must delegate these details to trustworthy individuals to ensure that there can be full attention to details.

I am confident that with Kadambavan dasa and those who will assist him, these goals can be achieved. An online group, including myself, has been created which include the key participants of this initiative. I have been assured me that they will keep me updated as these initiatives move forward.

Thank you very much.

Yours in Srila Prabhupada's service,
Niranjana Swami
